Setting Accents

«ERNEST HEMINGWAY» pleases! It demonstrates yet again that the native from Lucerne is an accomplished songwriter and producer.

Ernest Hemingway

The American author and Nobel laureate Ernest Hemingway was not only an outstanding literary figure and admired intellectual but also a reporter, a war correspondent, an freedom activist, an adventurer and deep sea fisherman. The allusion to Ernest Hemingway in the lyrics refer to his ability to resurrect even in the greatest of adversities. He was wounded in both World Wars, survived back to back plain crashes, was a serious drinker and yet still an activist for many causes, not least against Franco's oppression during the Spanish Civil War. The main theme of the lyrics are "to overcome" and hence the line: DAY BY DAY YOU RAISE AGAIN – ALL OF YOU AND ERNEST HEMINGWAY!

Long-term Cooperation

The music for «Ernest Hemingway» was composed by Paul Etterlin. The lyrics were penned by his lifelong friend and musical companion Marco Meniconi who lives in England.

- «ERNEST HEMINGWAY» is musically diverse with a good dose of New Country, strong lyrics and gets straight to the point: If you seek favour for "three-minute-radio-friendly airplay" you can't waste time.

Paul Etterlin

2000 songs as a session musician, countless appearances at home and abroad, and a chair as Professor of Music at the Hochschule Luzern and now the third single from solo-album number 7 - all these factors contribute to Paul Etterlin being a vastly experienced musician with an incredibly broad musical spectrum! In the 1980s, Paul decided to pursue a Degree in Classical Guitar at the Lucerne Conservatoire although he would have much preferred to be a close-up witness of American rock history when heroes of the rock guitar mushroomed in droves.

As a solo artist or with his own bands, Paul Etterlin belongs to the busy set of Swiss guitarists, singers and songwriters. He composed the official song of the Swiss Team for the Vancouver Winter Olympics, and his rendition of Mittendrin is the theme tune of one of the biggest TV sports channels in Germany - Sport1. In addition, his song «Silver Machines» accompanies the whole MotoGP series.

Handmade!

„ERNEST HEMINGWAY“ again reflects what Paul's fans love about his music: honest, catchy and straightforward songs.
